GOLD SEEKERS IMPRISONED.

MAY HAVE TO STAY ALL WINTER IF NOT RESCUED.

Steamship Mexico Sunk off the Coast of British Columbia--All the Passengers Saved.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 11.—News has just reached here from the northern gold fields that five thousand Klondyke treasure seekers are imprisoned in the Yukon Valley between Shagway and Lake Tagish. Unless they are rescued they will be compelled to remain in the valley all winter, which means that the majority of them will probably never get out at all. The cause of the blockade is the fierce rains that have been falling for some time.

It is reported here that the steamship Mexico, which was enroute from Alaska to this port has been sunk off the coast of British America. It was one of the largest and finest vessels in the Pacific passenger service. The passengers were rescued only after the most daring efforts of the officers and crew. All of the passengers reached here alive, but the exposure caused great suffering and some deaths will probably result from this cause.

BODY OF PREMIER CANOVAS.

Body Brought to Madrid--Immense Crowds Receive It.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

MADRID, Spain, Aug. 11.—The body of the murdered premier of Spain was brought here this morning from Santa Acqueda. It was met at the station by all the foreign ministers and members of the diplomatic corps. The civil and military authorities were also present. An immense crowd had assembled about the station in expectation of the train carrying the body.

Wales to Have a New Yacht.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—The rumor has been received here that George L. Watson is designing a new yacht to replace the Prince of Wales' cutter. Brittania, which he has advertised for sale.

New Solicitor of Treasury.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 11.—The President today appointed Felix A. Reeve, of Tennessee, to be assistant Solicitor of the Treasury. The appointment is dated August 5th.

HEADED FOR NEW YORK.

Anarchist Expelled from France--Says He is a Cuban Patriot.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

PARIS, Aug. 11.—An anarchist who gave his name as Planes, was expelled from France today. He was conducted by the police from Paris to Havre, where he will embark for New York. Planes protests that he is not an anarchist but a Cuban patriot.

An Archway Falls on a Contractor.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

BOSTON, Aug. 11.—An archway in the building at the south end, which is being remodelled, collapsed this morning, killing Contractor W. F. Bager. One workman was slightly injured.

A Plunger Short.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Mike Dwyer, the famous plunger, has returned from his short stay at Saratoga. It is rumored that he comes back sixty thousand short.

WAS THE COFFEE POISONED?

Coroner Will Investigate a Sudden Death.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

MOUNT KISCO, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Charles Watson, thirty-four years of age, dropped dead this morning, after drinking a cup of coffee. Coroner will investigate.

The Jr. O. U. A. M. meets tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, in the K. of P. hall. It is earnestly desired that a large crowd be present. Initiation.

WILL NOT TALK.

Will Give Out No Information Concerning Judge Day.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 11.—Secretary Sherman today refused to discuss the story printed in a New York paper to the effect that Judge Day had been called back to Washington by the President to supervise the acts of his superior, and practically, to take charge of the office. This action on the part of the President, requesting Day to cut short his vacation is due to Sherman's open interviews, patriotically discussing international diplomatic affairs in such a manner as to provoke serious criticism by foreign nations. This was observed by Secretary Foster at last Saturday's interview, and was immediately reported to the President.

Hatfield Report False.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Aug. 11—The report that has gained currency to the effect that Cap. Hatfield, the escaped desperado, had killed four men during a fight in the mountains of Logan county, is without foundation. Hatfield ras not yet been located.

WIFE MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Charles M. Clifford Cuts His Wife's Throat and Then Kills Himself.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Charles M. Clifford this morning murdered his wife Lottie, cutting her throat with a razor, and then suicided. The tragedy occurred at their home at two hundred and three Rush street.

Buying New Hose.

The fire committee met last night and purchased one thousad feet of hose for the city fire department. The purchase was made from the Odell Hardware Company.

In nearly all other places fire department supplies are bought from a foreign firm. We are glad that Greensbaro has a firm who can compete with outside concerns and that our authoities are patronizing them. That is displaying the right spirit.

STATE AGAINST SCHOOL TAX.

A Township Here and There Goes for it--None in Guilford.

The returns so far in show that the special school tax has lost in most counties, as was expected, even by its friends. Here and there, however, a township has voted for the tax. Two townships in Surry, one in Wake, one in Mecklenburg and one in Davidson. These are all that are reported as favoring the tax up to this time.

Some of those counties yet to hear from will probably show precincts declaring for the tax. Warrenton is reported as having a strong sentiment in favor of schools and may have voted the tax. All of the "black belt" seems to have gone overwhelmingly against the tax.

In the two precincts of North and South Gilmer in this county, and probably in others also, no election at all was held. To some of the precincts we learn that no ballot boxes were sent.

Sick in Asheville.

Mr. R. I. Katz received a telegram from Mr. E. R. Fishblate this morning stating that Mrs. Katz was sick in Asheville. Mr. Katz will leave for Asheville on the Chattanooga limited this evening.

We trust that it is nothing serious and that Mrs. Katz wtll soon be well.

TO GO TO CHAPEL HILL.

The University Will Have the Biggest Football Player in the Country.

Stanly county has a giant in the person of William Austin, who reaches the extraordinary height of 6 feet and 9¼ inches, and weighs 240 pounds. He is only twenty-two years old and is a blacksmith by trade. It is said that he can carry with ease a bale of cotton weighing 500 pounds, and that he can take a horse shoe and straighten it with his hands.

We learn that this young giant will attend the University at Chapel Hill next session and join the football team. He will be decidedly the biggest football player in the country.

We are told that on several occasions Mr. Austin has been offered quite a large sum of money to travel with shows, but he always declined such propositions, preferring to remain at home.

A NEGRO'S COWARDLY ACT

HE HURLS AN OLD RAKE HANDLE AT A YOUNG WHITE BOY.

The Boy's Injuries May Prove to be of a Serious Nature---The Brute Escapes.

One of the most cowardly and brutal deeds ever committed in Greensboro was enacted yesterday in front of Stafford's tobacco factory.

The hands employed there were eating their noon meal in front of the factory, when a big, burly negro named Wells, threw a muskmelon rind at little Fred Williams, white. The little boy threw it back, striking Wells. The negro then picked up a piece of an old rake handle and hurled it at the boy, knocking him down.

When the negro saw the result of the blow he left, going toward his home, in East Greensboro.

A warrant was issued for the negro but he had not been caught this morning.

Such brutality must not go unpunished. The negro should not have been allowed to escape from the city, if he has escaped, and no pains should be spared to secure him.

The boy, we learn, is seriously hurt, his spine being injured by the force of the blow. Dr. Richardson was summoned to attend him.

INCREASED MEMBERSHIP.

Growth of the Industrial and Immigration Association.

About a week ago a committee was appointed to solicit new members for the Industrial and Immigration Association. Already thirty-three new members have been secured, and the indications are that the number will reach seventy-five before the committee has completed its canvass. Every business and professional man in Greensboro will be given an opportunity within the next few days of accepting or declining an invitation to join this association.

Our people are showing their appreciation of the work of the association as they have never done before, by their readiness to come in as members and contribute to its support.

Dr. Hume at the Biblical Assembly.

Dr. Thomas Hume, the eminent divine and Shakespearean scholar, came up from the University last evening and spent the night at the Benbow. He left this morning for Asheville, where he is to deliver an address before the Southern Biblical Assembly this evening on "The Bible as Literature."

On Friday evening he delivers an address on "The Messianic Element in Isaiah's Prophecies," and on Sunday will preach before the assembly.

A rare treat is in store for those who are so fortunate as to hear Dr. Hume. He is one of the ripest scholars in the country, and as a lecturer he has few equals.

A SUPPOSED LYNCHING.

Crowd Boarded Train and Took the Prisoner Away From the Sheriff.

A gentleman from Asheville passing through the city, reports that the negro who committed an assault upon Miss Henderson, near Weaverville, and was brought to Asheville and lodged in jail has been lynched. The crowd that stormed the jail last night failed to find the prisoner as the sheriff, in anticipatiou of a mob, had taken him from the jail and spirited him away. The sheriff, it seems, had started with his prisoner to Black Mountain or Swanannoa and the crowd hearing this boarded the train and watched for the sheriff and negro at every station. At Swanannoa the sheriff attempted to board the train, when the crowd on the train took the negro away from him and disappeared. There seems little room to doubt that he has been lynched, though no news of his body being found has arrived.

AN INDIGNATION MEETING.

Evangelist Lee Believes in Proclaiming the Gospel on the Streets.

Rev. J. W. Lee gives notice that just preceding the service this evening he will hold an indignation meeting, and he requests every man and woman in Greensboro who are opposed to that ordinance in our city government which allows political and other gatherings and forbids preaching upon our streets to be present. He will ask those present to express their indignation by a rising vote.

Mr. Lee is now circulating a petition which will be presented to the Board of Aldermen tomorrow night, asking them to rescind the ordinance.

BOARD OF GOVERNORS MEET.

The New M. and M. Club Rooms Are Nearly Completed.

The Board of Governors of the New Merchants' and Manufacturers' Club held a meeting last night.

One of the board informs THE TELEGRAM that all the furniture has been ordered, a large portion having already arrived and the rest is expected in a few days.

We went through the club rooms, in the Katz building, yesterday and found them nearly completed, little remaining to be done besides papering and carpeting. The Board of Governors propose to have all the appointments of the club first-class in every particular and nothing that can add to the elegance and comfort of club rooms will be omitted. It is the present intention of the Governors to have the rooms ready by the first of September for the club to take possession.

The club will open with a reception, which will be the social event of the year. With her strong Industrial and Immigragration Association pushing the interests of the city, and a club worthy of any city in the south as a testimonial to the esprit de corps of her citizens, Greensboro may well claim a distinct step forward.

POINTS FROM HIGH POINT.

Have you seen that artistically decorated window at the High Point Clothing store? It is worth looking at.

D. E. Clark left yesterday morning with his gun and fishing tackle. That doesn't look much like going to a wedding, but that is just where he is going.

There was a tremendous crowd at Abbey's Creek Monday morning to pay their respects to the remains of Willie Criddlebaugh. Rev. J. M. Hilliard performed the last sad rites. Criddlebaugh's death occurred Sunday morning at the Brummell place, about six miles from here. He was a very popular young man.

Charlie Parker Gets $800.

About two years ago Charlie Parker, who was at that time an employee of the Southern railroad, was injured by falling from a box car. He afterwards went to work for the C. F. and Y. V. road and entered suit against the Southern for $1,500. The case was ended yesterday afternoon in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $800.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 11, 1897.

You can get the telegraphic news twelve hours earlier in THE TELEGRAM than in any paper that gets into Greensboro, and for four dollars a year less.

A PIGMENT has been discovered which renders an object covered with it invisible in the strong search light of a battle-ship. Surely if the man who discovered the pigment will only patent it fortune will smile as broadly as Ki did when he got that consulship. What an incomparable boon such a thing would be just after election time when the scandals begin to come out. A dash or two with a mammoth brush and all evidences of fraud would disappear, as if by magic. Marcus would buy a ship load of the stuff in anticipation of that senatorship race. It would also be a most wise and patriotic move, if some wealthy citizen would present enough of it to North Carolina to put a good thick coating over her record of the past two years.

OF ALL the idiots who afflict and inflict mortal man the fellow who always wants to be "abolishing" something is at once the most pestiferous and irrepressible. You can find people, galore, who want to abolish everything save what most needs abolishing, viz.: their precious selves. The latest proposition that has emanated from this body of lunatics at large is, that we abolish breakfast. Imagine five solid hours of work with nothing more substantial for nourishment than the bad dreams of the previous night. The number of murders the first half day would fill the prisons.

THE Prince of Wales is advertising his yacht for sale in some of the New York papers. This is proof positive that the Prince will make a good ruler for his people, he has a hankering for American dollars. He will find a purchaser without difficulty. If he has anything in the way of old clothes, that he can spare, he will find ready takers at a fancy figure, in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, etc. Anything that the "Deah Pwince" may have to dispose of will not go abegging in those hot-haunts of common sense and simon pure Americanism.

ONE sensible man has turned up in connection with all this Klondyke business. He is Mr. L. A. Coolidge, of Washington, D. C. Mr. Coolidge did not invest his slender savings in a fur coat and pick, not he. He wrote a book on the Klondyke in four days and caught the tide at its flood. Next winter when the Klondykers are chewing a strip of dog hide and beating each other with poles to keep from freezing there will be coals in Mr. Coolidge's bin and plenty in his larder and a twinkle in his eye. A wise man is Mr. Coolidge.

THE Irish Americans are to have a grand hallelujah jubilee in Nashville at an early day. It is not stated what effect this announcement had on wholesale whiskey quotations. It is safe to say that three valuable classes of our citizens will be represented: The saloonists, the policemen and aldermen. Faith, but it will be a broth of a gathering.

THE Jingo press of this country has kept "everlastingly at it" until the English editor is beginning to take a hand. Now look out for a current that will teach the Atlantic trade winds what a good steady blow really is.

WE WERE sorry to see the old street car track being taken up yesterday and we doubt the wisdom of it. While it is true that the laying of the line was premature, it will only be a matter of a few years until Greensboro will need a street car line. It might have been left as a prophecy of what is to be; as a sort of mark in advance, toward which the city must move.

LET our city authorities understand that the negro who committed the brutal deed noted in our news columns must be caught. Their recent zeal in enforcing the law is fresh in the minds of our people—the pace has been set.

A COLORADO court empanneled a woman on a regular jury the other day. Now let Mary Ellen rise to the occasion—the laurels of Kansas are in danger.

Gorman's Presidential Bee.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 10.—The idea that Senator Gorman's friends contemplate the possibility of bringing him forward as a Presidential candidate in 1900 is gaining ground. The position W. J. Bryan has occupied in the public mind since his defeat for the Presidency leaves little room to doubt that he will be renominated unless the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 loses its prominence as an issue.

The one little spark of hope of those dissatisfied with the situation is that possibly those who oppose Bryan, though free silver advocates in a way, might be induced to join with those who are not pleased to have silver so prominently the issue. Some of these feel that if they can find a man of sufficient prominence who stood by the Democratic party during the last election, supporting Bryan, the Chicago platform and all, they may induce anti-Bryan silver men to join with them to make him a candidate. Gorman's name is being discussed in this connection.

They calculate on silver men who do not want Bryan nominated being willing to accept some such a declaration on the money question in 1900 as is this year contained in the Maryland platform. Bryan could not afford to run on that platform, and its adoption would mean his defeat for the nomination. On the other hand Gorman would fit the platform exactly.

Americans in a Foreign Dungeon.

NEW YORK, Aug, 11.—Assistant District Attorney Henry C. Allen has received word that his friend, Samuel C. Appleton, and a man named Campbell, both Americans, are incarcerated in a dungeon on the Cape de Verde Islands, Portuguese possessions off the western coast of Africa. Appleton found that Campbell was arrested charged with being implicated in a diamond robbery. He interested himself in his behalf and was arrested as an accomplice.

The Dingley Bill Profits.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Window Glass Workers' Union have asked of their employers a share in the benefits of the Dingley bill. The Window Glass Manufacturers' Association will resist the request for an increase in the scale. The workers committee represents 5,000 men, comprising the skilled section of the workers in the window glass factories, the other employees being unorganized.

STATEMENT BY MR. M'ALISTER.

Takes Exception at Alleged Charges of Tariff Association.

To the Editor:—During the last thirty days, various complaints have come to the Southern Stock Mutual Insurance Company of charges made by agents of the Southeastern Tariff Association that the policy holders of the above named company are liable to assessment. It will be patent to any one who will take the pains to review the evidence, that the charge is utterly false and based upon so flimsy a foundation as to furnish no excuse to those who have helped to circulate the slander. The truth of the case would have been plain and unmistakable to any one who wanted to know it.

It has just been brought to our attention that the charge is based upon a South Carolina Supreme court decision which was published in your columns July 10th, 1897. This decision, as it appeared in your paper and in the form of a special circular, has been distributed to the agents of the Southeastern Tariff Association throughout the State, and has been used by many of them as a weapen againts the Southern Stock-Mutual Insurance Company.

A glance at the decision referred to will convince any one that it has not the most remote application to the Southern Stock-Mutual. The decision passes upon the liability of policyholders of the Farmers' Mutual Insurance Company and no other, and is based upon a section of the act of incorporation: "That every member of said corporation shall be, and is hereby, bound to pay his, her or their portion of all losses and expenses accruing to said corporation." The company whose policy was in litigation had no other way of raising money except by assessment upon its members. This was essentially its plan provided for in the charter and in the contract of insurance.

It will be seen how unjustly this decision has been used to the prejudice of the Southern Stock-Mutual, when it is considered that our contract of insurance is the standard policy, the same as that issued by all the stock companies: that notice is given in bold letters on the policy that the policyholders of the Southern Stock-Mutual are specifically exempt by LEGISLATIVE ENACTMENT in its charter from all liability to assessment; and that this assessment feature is as utterly foreign to the plan of the Stock-Mutual as it is essentially a part of the plan of the company named in the South Carolina decislon. Some of the best lawyers of the State have passed upon this matter, and it is a question about which there is no uncertainty whatever.

This is a fair specimen of the kind of misrepresentation we have met with continually at the hands of certain competitors, and we would prefer to ignore it as we have done on previous occasions; but there are several thousand property holders in North Carolina who are directly interested in the profits of the Southern Stock-Mutual Insurance Company and we are unwilling that a baseless slander should rob us of their support and good will.

Yours very tauly,
A. W. M'CALISTER.

Every Business Man Should be a Member

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Gems of Truth Gleaned From the Teachings of All Denominations.

No nation can exist unless its people are possessed of the spirit of brotherly love.—Rev. J. Allen Kirk, Baptist, Boston.

The Things to Do.

To do good to others, to relieve suffering, to nurse the sick, to save young lives by education and all similar efforts carry their rewards with them.—Rabbi Gottheil, New York.

The Value of Praise.

Disraeli says that the praise of a fool is incense to the wisest. But praise is worth most when it is sincere and from a competent judge.—Rev. Dr. Gullette, Methodist, Cincinnati.

How to Get Rid of Trouble.

How to get rid of trouble? I'll give you one recipe that never fails: Go and find some one with worse trouble than your own and try to help him or her bear it.—Rev. Dwight L. Moody, Evangelist, Chicago.

The Measure of Men.

Every man has his measure, and each day, by the kind of love or affection we are adding to or taking from those things, are we made manly or angelic.—Rev. D. V. Bowen, New Jerusalem Church, San Francisco.

One Idea of Hell.

My idea of hell is sin, which carries with it terrible punishment, either in this life or that which comes after. If an offender is not redeemed, the end is death, extinction of being.—Rev. Lyman Abbott, Congregationalist, Brooklyn.

The Liquor Traffic.

It is not the question of gold or silver that concerns the farmer, nor is it tariff or free trade that is ruining business. It is the constant drain of the liquor traffic that impoverishes all classes.—Rev. J. B. Dunn, Secretary of the National Temperance Society, New York.

Only Specialists Succeed.

The knowledge that has accumulated of late years has become so vast that a man, in order to succeed in the world and make his work of value to his fellow beings, must concentrate his efforts on some special line of knowledge.—Rev. Robert Macdonald, Baptist, Boston.

A Home and Its Queen.

The real and true man desires to build a home and crown a real and true woman queen of it. The crowning desire of womanly nature is to be the angel of a pure man's life and the maker of his home. Queens, not kings, rule the world.—Rev. A. Crow, Methodist, St. Louis.

No Hell of Literal Fire.

Not many preachers believe in a hell of literal fire, nor do the orthodox churches generally care to insist upon endless punishment. There is something in our age of kindness to dumb brutes even that makes it seem out of place.—Rev. H. W. Thomas, People's Church, Chicago.

Paul Not a Partisan.

Paul was not a man that leaders could do much with. He never would have been a Republican or Democratic partisan, for that means ordinarily mortgaging one's integrity. He made no bargains with anything or anybody.—Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst, Presbyterian, New York.

Newspaper Responsibilities.

Has not the newspaper a responsibility? Will not the people read what they print? Why not, then, print purer matter? Think you that the people's demand will answer before heaven? Is a man clearly guiltless who gives poison to a man who demands it? No person can rise higher than the literature he takes into his home and reads.—Rev. W. W. West, Baptist, Pittsburg.

Texas Mud.

Did you ever see Texas mud? Why, down there lots of times a man has to take the load out of his wagon and leave the wagon stuck in the mud in the middle of the streets. If a woman puts her foot down, you would think the impression was made by a cow. If a man steps there—one of these men with liberal feet—you would think that some one had been taking up sod.—Rev. Dr. Wharton, Evangelist, Kansas City.

Life's Westward Windows.

There are times when the question as to the certainty of a future life does not seem to be a very pressing or vital one. The present life perhaps too completely fills the entire horizon. Yet death's shadow menaces youth even, and though a man be in the morn of vigor and of duty he cannot help remembering at least now and then he must soon begin to look out of life's westward windows.—Rev. Wayland Hoyt, Baptist, Philadelphia.

What Is a Church?

I want to say a few words about the usages and misusages of the English language. In my boyhood days what is now called the church was known as the meeting house; now it's called entirely a church. I do not think this a good change of usage. I think a church is a body of God's people, and not a building in which to meet. I have struggled against the change, but have been unable to resist it. I grieve that we have surrendered to such innovations.—Rev. W. H. Whitsitt, Baptist, Atlanta.

Europe's Secular Sunday.

The history of European nations shows that the secularizing of Sunday is a long step toward the enslaving of the laborer. With the open museums, theaters and galleries will come the open stores and shops. It was but a short time since I saw in one of our great dailies the following statement from its Paris correspondent: "Sunday brings no respite here. On the contrary, it is the day when they work the hardest. On no other day are the theaters so crowded, on no other day are the butchers' stalls frequented by more customers. It is not a day of rest in Paris; it is a day of activity."—Rev. W. F. Richardson, First Christian Church, Kansas City.

FOR A HIGHER CONSCIENCE.

MR. LEE TALKS SOUND SENSE AND HITS HARD.

An Educated Christian Conscience is Needed--Timely Remarks on an Important Subject.

Mr. Lee took his text last night from John 16:8—"And when He is come He will convince the world of sin," and Acts 2:37—"They were pricked in the heart and said, 'Men and brethren, what shall we do.'"

He preached on conscience, and said conviction of sin was the first work of the Holy Spirit on the conscience of the sinner. No man will seek salvation until he is aroused by the consciousness of sins committed.

Mr. Lee defined conscience as God's vice-gerent in the soul; that mysterious principle that supervises and scrutinizes our actions and judges between the right and wrong.

"Conscience does not necessarily teach us what is right and what is wrong. It only gives us the idea of right and wrong according to its knowledge and conception of the same, and causes us to approve what we believe to be right and disapprove what what we believe to be wrong. What is right and what is wrong must be learned by the exercise of reason and judgment."

The evangelist said that until conscience is educated it is not always a safe guide. Some people have the mistaken idea that so long as they are sincere and conscientious in what they do they are all right. The judicial power of conscience is governed by the degree of moral light it possesses.

Mr. Lee contended that we need an educated Christian conscience above all things. "What we need is more conscesience in public affairs as well as private. No law is higher or better than the conscience of the men who make it. Our town laws are just as good as the men who made them. * * * Elect men to office who will be governed by Christian principle instead of personal policy, men who are free men and not owned by the saloons. * * * When public conscience is corrupt vice will be protected and virtue will be dethroned."

"Conscience is the telephone of the soul, through which God speaks to the soul in a voice that none can hear but that soul to whom God is talking. Conscienee wields a strange and solemn power over the sinner. You commit a secret crime, and although no human eye has seen it, yet you feel guilty and wretched and miserable. Conscience comes in the lonely hours of the night and wakens you from slumber; and as it stands by your bedside your past sins which you thought were buried march in grim and gastly review before your terror—stricken soul. * * * Conscience made Richard III exclaim: "O, coward conscience, how thou dost afflict me! What do I fear? Myself? There is none else by. Is there a murderer here? No. Yes, I am! My conscience hath a thousand several tongues, and every tongue brings in a several tale, and every tale condemns me for a villain! Methought the souls of all that I had murdered came to my tent, and every one did threat tomorrow's vengeance on the head of Richard."

The sermon is pronounced by all who heard it as being of extraordinary force and power; a large crowd was present, and much interest was manifested.

A Present to the Odd Fellows.

Mr. L. C. Howlett has on exhibition at the Fishblate-Katz-Rankin Company's store a very fine portrait of himself, which he will present to the Odd Fellows. The portrait was made by Alderman, and is a most excellent likeness. Call around and see it.

Mr. Howlett is what might be called a "jiner." If we mistake not, he is a member of nearly every order in town, and an officer in most of them. He has been a member of the Odd Fellows twenty-five years, and during that time has been honored by his brethren of the order with various offices.

Replanted.

The city authorities have not pulled up any more spikes. The Greensboro street railway will be permitted to requiescat in pace and otherwise remain undisturbed. Not only that, but they considerately replanted what had been pulled up already.

A country man who saw notice served and the rails put back, said it reminded him of a "scare-crow" he had put up in his corn field. The scare-cow not only stopped the crows from pulling his corn, but scared them so badly they replanted what they had already pulled up.

Hail in Stokes.

From the Winston Journal we learn that a severe hail storm visited a limited section near King's, in Stokes county a few days ago and played havoc with the tobacco crop. Several crops were completely ruined, the report says. The storm covered only a small area of country.

Mrs. B. C. Sharpe returned last night from Cottage City, near Boston, Mass., where she has been for six weeks taking a special course in elocution and physical culture.

E. R. Hodgin spent last night with his brother, S. A. Hodgin, at the McAdoo House. Mr. Hodgin is manager of the J. Van Lindley Orchard Company at Southern Pines, and left for that place this morning.

Rev. W. R. Gwaltney, once the popular pastor of the Baptist church at this place, came in from Wilkes county last night, where he has been spending his vacation. He returned to his home at Wake Forest on the noon train.

The Cyclists' Melon Feast.

Daniel's melon feast to Greenboro's white cyclists comes off Friday evening at 6 o'clock.

Mr. Daniel has contracted for fifty melons, and expects all the cyclists to come out and help eat them and see the finish of the road race. The ladies have a special invitation to participate in this feast.

Alderman will go out and take a picture of the crowd.

Appointed Receiver.

Judge McIver, on Monday, appointed J. Speight Hunter receiver of the Manchester Cotton Mills, in Cumberland county. Mr. Hunter left that morning for Manchester. It is thought that a reorganization of the company will probably be effected.

Continued.

The case of Motley vs. The Southern Finishing Mills, which has been in court for some time, came up this morning, but was continued again.

FAYETTEVILLE FAGGOTS.

Compliments for Our Junior Reel Team--Favorable Comment.

The Firemen's Association and tournament is a thing of the past, but its memories will abide with us. Never a better set of men have met in such a convention and their record will stand as an example to others in the future. Numbers of persons have said to me that the crowd was the most orderly ever seen in our city. This, no doubt, was largely due to the dispensary. I saw only one drunken man during the week, and have not heard of a single disturbance. A gentleman who was on the streets a great deal, whose business required his presence in every direction, says, "The behavior beats the record."

The old idea that firemen belong to a rough class is a great mistake. They are men of refinement and nobility in most instances, and I am glad to make this note concerning their tournament. It is a prize far better than the championship belt or any money consideration. I felt like Greensboro had settled upon us when I saw their crowd. I was proud of the boys, and the first afternoon, of their record. The prophet said a little child should lead—not in the tournament, but it is a fact that the boys of the junior reel led the way to success on the second day.

The costume of the Florence, S. C., boys, composed of green union tights with pantlettes of white, was beautiful. The Charlotte boys with similar suits of black and green were very pretty. These suits far surpass the short pants and bare legs of others. I congratulate the association ond wish for those who are devoted to its work the greatest success.

The beautiful drapery of our buildings has been removed, our streets are deserted and we have settled back to our old ways and peer into the future, wishing for a return of the "fire laddies."

There are a few rules which might be adopted in these contests which would greatly help matters. The details of every race ought to be settled in convention before going to the scene of contest. Every contestant who does not come up to the mark should be debarred without argument. The hours appointed should be observed with punctuality. Those not on time should lose their position.

Any contestant caught taking undue advantages in any way should be debarred from all races, or heavily fined. Such a course followed, would, in a few years, give that readiness on dress parade which is required for the hour of duty.

The Goldsboro tournament will have to "hustle" from now on to surpass the one just over in Fayetteville. Our boys will be there and you had better prepare to meet them.

Threw the Wrong Way.

Last night a crowd was sitting on the sidewalk in front of the McAdoo House when some one threw a beer bottle from one of the windows up stairs. The bottle barely missed a gentleman's head and fell on the sidewalk, being smashed into smithereens.

Had it struck some one on the head there would probably have been a funeral in the city today. As it was the gentleman who had such a narrow escape has hardly recovered from the nervous shock.

People who go into a room of a hotel to drink beer should be careful where they throw their bottles.

A Worthy Young Man.

W. J. Horney, of this city, has been appointed instructor in Latin in the Fayetteville Military Academy, of which Col. T. J. Drewry is principal. The iustitution is to be congratulated, for it has secured the services of a worthy and most excellent young man.

Mr. Horney graduated at our State University with high honors last June. He gained the special prize offered by the Early English Text Society for scholarship in Anglo-Saxon and early English. Mr. Horney took three years in Anglo-Saxon at the University.

Young's Excursion.

Young's excursion to Wilmington left this morning a few minutes after 8 o'clock, carrying a good crowd. There were six cars on the train, and they all seemed to be comfortably filled, about three hundred and fifty people being on board.

Quite a number were expected to board the train farther down the road, so it is safe to presume that the train was crowded before it reached its destination. They took on passengers as far down as Spout Springs.

Tillman to Speak.

The Confederate Veterans have a celebration at Mocksville tomorrow in connection with the Masonic picnic, and Tillman, the "pitchfork" Senator from South Carolina will address them. He will doubtless draw a large crowd.

An excursion train will leave Winston-Salem tomorrow morning, and it is expected to carry many who are more or less admirers of the blunt-spoken Senator from South Carolina.
